Advisory

- Rainfall is not expected in the entire County signaling continuity of dry conditions across the whole County.
- Communities are advised to continue to remain vigilant, particularly in open and dry areas where dusty conditions may prevail.
- Pastoralists and peace communities should continue to engage in peace dialogues as they jointly manage and share increasingly scarce natural resources.
- Communities are as well advised to stay well hydrated, take precautions against heat stress during sunny periods, and continuously monitor official weather updates.
- For effective planning and preparedness during this anticipated dry spell, communities should closely follow advisories issued by the Kenya Meteorological Department (KMD) and NDMA.
- Marsabit County locational specific forecasts are available from the County Directors of Meteorological Services, Marsabit Meteorological office .
