Commentary of county weather forecaster:

Zone2: The region is expected to experience light to moderate rain showers over few to several areas with intensity increasing towards the end of the week. Daytime temperatures will remain warm, peaking between 27°C and 33°C, before cooling down nicely to nighttime lows of 16°C to 20°C.

Advisories:

Remain vigilante to changing weather for potential hazards anticipated to happen.

Flooding: Flash floods and river overflow are possible in lakeshore and low-lying areas.

Aviation: Reduced visibility, gusts and wet runways are expected at Kisumu airport, mainly from Friday to Monday.

Lake Victoria: Rough water and poor visibility are likely.

Roads: Roads will be slippery and rural access roads in Zone 2 may become impassable.

Public health: Stagnant water raises the risk of malaria and cholera.

Agriculture: Rain favours planting, but waterlogging and crop disease are risks.

Infrastructure: Lightning and wind may cause power and communication outages.

NB: Use the above forecasts alongside daily updates and alerts from KMSA for any short time changes
